

Why gender equality is important?

OZGEKONURALP1 JUN 20, 2023 12:36PM UTC

Group 1

---

because it prevents violence against women and girls, LGBTI+ people because it is a human rights and gender equality is an affirmative measure

it is prerequisite for human rights

it is important for the economy. equal opportunities result in better productivity.

for proper development of children, for child rights.

for a democratic and participatory society

it will encompass variety of people. Variety of people means variety of ideas and solutions

It gives more opportunities to more people that other ways block that path to certain individuals for better health care and a healthier society. and a happier and more productive society. better education.

to teach children to be more accepting of their society and the variety of people in it.

Group 2

---

Gender equality is a basic human right, key to sustainable development and a functioning democracy.

It is important for promoting social justice, driving economic development, achieving sustainable development goals, improving health and well-being, ensuring peace and security, and enabling individuals to live fulfilling lives.

It benefits everyone in society and contributes to a fair, inclusive, and equitable world.

Gender equality enables tailor made solutions to our problems.

It is important to prevent violence against women and girls.

Group 3

---

must human right; cross-cutting issue when it comes to policy creation; developing potential

reducing violence and providing security

Group 4

---

Gender equality is a fundamental human right. It upholds the principles of fairness, dignity, and respect for all people.

Equal opportunities to everybody.

Gender equality is a component of sustainable development.

it's a respect for humans, something as common dicency

Gender equality is closely linked to economic growth and development.

to have a voice in different issues and have freedom of speech.

Vital for achieving sustainable peace and security.

To have an equal share of responsibilities and duties in society

*********